

Sweden are on the track of their junior side. Are we going to watch another Swedish team of high quality as we are used to?

In its first match against Croatia Sweden were behind during 55min, however, managed to turn the match thanks to their iron defence and their counter-attacks.

Sweden configuring in 6:0 defence is already routine at that age.

The half defender moves forward to anticipate against the left back.

The two defenders closely tackle the pivot.

A very dynamic 6:0 defence with the 4th defender who advances to anticipate against the centre back.

A defence based on the physical 1-on-1 play. The defenders interfere at the 9m line in order to spoil any movement to the inside that could endanger the defence.

In this situation the inside defender comes to help in order to prevent the left back from escaping to the inside.
